7 of 7 people found the following review helpful. It's okayBy J. OgasianMy wife and I moved to the Bay Area about a month ago and were excited to hike all the great parks nearby until we found out that most of them are dog unfriendly. This book offers tons of hikes that (according to them) are dog friendly. We took its advice last weekend and hiked the reservoirs at Alpine Lake last weekend. The book states that it a good place for dogs to be off-leash and to let them swim, well, both of these are against the rules of the park (especially the swimming since this is a drinking-water supply reservoir). the directions they gave in the book to find the hike were also quite terrible. Save yourself some grief and use a GPS or [...] to get there. Bottom line: The book will help you find place that are dog friendly, but that's where the helpfulness ends. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Excellent Guide By P Hagen We used this book last weekend and it was excellent. The guide was detailed enough to get us where we needed to go and the pictures helped a lot. The dogs were happy and definitely had a fun time as it clearly told us which trails were leash optional and what to expect for difficulty and length of time. It made choosing hikes easy and we were only disappointed on the last one. Why? The book is a few years old and Lake Shasta has shrunk dramatically making access from the trail - also in total disrepair - impossible without a lot of hard work. Would recommend a new version (which wasn't available when I ordered mine only 2 weeks ago) to be sure you have accurate information. 0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. Perfect for beginners and their pets By H. Bulldog This book is great! It has easy to understand legends at the front of each hike to help you decide if this is a hike you are up for and the descriptions of each hike are accurate and interesting. Well done.

Where to hike with Fido in Northern California: all trails recommended as dog-friendly and dog-fun! *Terrain that's canine hazard-free and easy on the paws *No leashes required on most trails and rarely a crowd to dodge *75 trails accessible from Redding, Sacramento, the San Francisco Bay Area, and Monterey County When Thom Gabrukiewicz's canine companion, Scully, cut her pads on rough terrain, he was forced to carry her out on top of his pack-eight miles with an extra 50 pounds on his back. Scully recovered, but Gabrukiewicz started looking at trails from a dog's point of view. They have since hiked more than 2,000 miles together, joined by sidekick Trinity. These trails do not require leashes (except in parks as noted). More than two-thirds of the hikes are on lesser known trails where travel is light and where you're unlikely to meet horses, bicycles, or motorized vehicles. They avoid steep, rocky terrain and offer lakes or streams as a reward. Additional features include what to pack for your pooch (The Ten Canine Essentials), and a Trail Finder chart that lists hikes by terrain, difficulty for dogs, leash regulations, and more.
