By Richard N. Map was great but I was a little disappointment that it did not cover our full trip on the Big South Fork. I suppose that was my fault for not checking closer. However, the map also arrived with small slices in it. It looked like the packaging envelope may have been cut by a box cutter and the map inside was cut in multiple places.

By MCB National Geographic Trails Illustrated maps are among the best to keep in your pack while hiking. Some of their maps can be used standalone for trip planning. For the Big South Fork area however I feel it this map is not quite complete enough for the planning. I'll also be referencing the Delrome maps and probably pick up a trail guide.
