GREAT book with wonderful picturesBy crystalpumpkinpup GREAT book with wonderful pictures. I got it for my daughter before she went on a class trip and it was fun to look at the places she would be visiting together. 1 of 2 people found the following review helpful. Pretty bookBy jodimcjodi I bought this as a gift for people we stayed with on a recent vacation. It's a pretty book with a lot of nice pictures. It is a little lighter on historical photos than I was expecting, but it is still quite a nice book, especially for those not familiar with Boston.

Boston: the city on the hill, filled with incomparable historic sites, bustling neighborhoods, and cultural riches. One of the oldest communities in America, it also is one of the most forward-looking and youthful. Take a stunning pictorial tour of this Colonial gem that helped give birth to the United States, led by a professor who knows every lively detail of its highways and byways, its landmarks and hidden treasures, its stories and lore. Through remarkably beautiful images, Jonathan Beagle ushers readers through the Back Bay, with its public gardens, renowned Old South Church, and John Hancock Tower, to Bunker Hill House and the USS Constitution in the North End, to the surrounding Hub with its many museums, memorials, and universities (including MIT and Harvard). Visit Faneuil Hall and Quincy Market in the Financial District; the Long Wharf Marina and the Aquarium by the Waterfront; and the State House and African Meeting Hall on elegant Beacon Hill. And of course, what trip to Boston would be complete without a stopover at Fenway Park, home of the Red Sox? Beagle's engaging and knowledgeable commentary, along with the wealth of photographs, provide the perfect introduction to Boston for any native, visitor, or armchair traveler.

About the Author Jonathan M. Beagle, Ph. D., is Associate Professor of History at Western New England University in Springfield, Massachusetts. He teaches a course on Boston's history and was recipient of the University's 2012 Excellence in Teaching Award.
