WHY only one map per community??By CustomerI used this map for many years, and never wondered if it had any relationship to why I was getting lost all the time. Then I got a new map that is continuous. Suddenly, I could find myself when I needed to get somewhere! I didn't have to know what town I was in in order to plan a route! All the maps were at the same scale; I could tell how far away something was by where it was on the map!That fine map has since gone out of print. I don't understand why people keep buying maps like this, instead of demanding the kind of continuous scale, contiguous maps that people everywhere else in the USA are using.Please join me in boycotting this type of map until they wise up. There is a "Pocket Boston Map" on sale that is done properly, at least for all the communities inside 128. Buy that instead!
