Cliff Jacobson : Boundary Waters Canoe Camping (Paddling Series) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Boundary Waters Canoe Camping (Paddling Series):

I do not agree will all of his equipment reccomendations as I prefer somewhat lighter gear than he prefers but his recomendations are tailored more to groups/families where equipment costs are a major consideration. His advice on prepping your gear, and how to stow, load, and portage is obviously the results of years of experience. This isn't a "where to go" book for the BWCA, though he does suggest several routes.3 of 3 people found the following review helpful. Great bookBy Aaron WhiteI've purchased other canoe books but the two I bought from Cliff Jacobson I can't put down. I'm a novice and I feel his books are the most informative and real. He doesn't say you need the most expensive things just what works and just what you need. Lots of good advice from a man with lots of experience and a real passion for the outdoors. Book explains all need to know about permits and what to expect when you travel in the bwca.0 of 0 people found the following review helpful. ... was going to be more closely but it is amazing they were able to make a book out of ...By pnMaybe I should have looked at what the content was going to be more closely but it is amazing they were able to make a book out of such little material. There are like two routes discussed and even those don't have very much information. I don't know if there is another resource out there with more routes etc but if that is what you are looking for, I would avoid this thing

A heart-warming, thoroughly modern, marvelously illustrated guide, Boundary Waters Canoe Camping is aimed at paddlers in the Boundary Waters Canoe Area in Minnesota and covers places to go, planning a canoe trip, navigating, selecting a canoe and rigging it out, selecting equipment, camping and cookery, traveling with children, and dealing with hazards--all brought to you by one of America's most renowned canoeing experts, Cliff Jacobson.

From the Back CoverThe Boundary Waters Canoe Area (BWCA) is a legendary wilderness destination for canoeists from around the world. Located in northeastern Minnesota just south of the Ontario border, the Boundary Waters offers paddlers a thousand pristine lakes and streams and more than a million acres of solitude and wild beauty.
