Johanna S. Wisthaler : By Water to the Columbian Exposition (Dodo Press) before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised By Water to the Columbian Exposition (Dodo Press):

The World's Columbian Exposition - also known as The Chicago World's Fair - was a World's Fair held in Chicago in 1893 to celebrate the 400th anniversary of Christopher Columbus's arrival in the New World. Chicago bested New York City; Washington, D.C. ; and St. Louis, Missouri, for the honor of hosting the fair. The fair had a profound effect on architecture, the arts, Chicago's self-image, and American industrial optimism. The Chicago Columbian Exposition was, in large part, designed by Daniel Burnham and Frederick Law Olmsted. It was the prototype of what Burnham and his colleagues thought a city should be. It was designed to follow Beaux Arts principles of design, namely, European Classical Architecture principles based on symmetry and balance. The exposition covered more than 600 acres (2.4 km²), featuring nearly 200 new buildings of classical architecture, canals and lagoons, and people and cultures from around the world. By Water to the Columbian Exposition (1894) was written by Johanna Sara Wisthaler (1868-?).
