More good fly fishing reading for your bucket list.By DaveWas it better than the first one? Not really. Just more places to think about for your fly fishing bucket list. Again, a few pictures would have been nice.

Fifty More Places to Fly Fish Before You Die is the latest offering in the bestselling Fifty Places series. Chris Santella's first book, Fifty Places to Fly Fish Before You Die, has more than 100,000 copies in print, and Santella now a regular fly-fishing contributor to the New York Times and many angling periodicals has finally returned to the subject that started it all. Santella profiles 50 more first-class fly-fishing destinations around the world, as shared by top fishing-expedition leaders and journalists. This volume includes many of fly fishings next big things: fishing in San Diego for mako sharks; sight-casting in Bolivia for golden dorado; flats-style striper fishing in Maines Casco Bay; nocturnal sea trout angling in Wales; and fishing for giant mahseer in the Himalayan foothills of India. Gorgeous photography showcases the beauty of these destinations, and the If You Go section enables readers to embark on the fishing trips themselves. Praise for Fifty More Places to Fly Fish Before You Die: The photos are sharp, the prose is compelling (Santella is one of the best in this business), the research is supremely thorough . . . and as such, the ride through 50 More Places is very much worth taking.
