"Lincoln said that, at fifty, a man gets the face he deserves. Whether Ohio, on reaching her 200th birthday as a state, has the face she deserves is another question." Thus muses award-winning nature writer John Fleischman in his opening of THE OHIO LANDS. Ian Adams pictorial answer in 150 color photographs is an unequivocal yes. Adams portrays a subject that is ever young yet ever changing in her ageless beauty across the seasons and years.

About the AuthorIAN ADAMS, a youthful emigrant to Ohio from Birmingham, England, adjusted so well to his chosen country as to become the sole photographer of six books about Ohio and the Midwest and a regular contributor to numerous regional and national magazines, including Ohio, Ohio Week, Ohio Motorist, Plain Dealer, and Midwest Living. He has also been the sole photographer for BrownTrout's Wild Scenic Ohio calendars every year since 1989 and for its Ohio Places calendars since 1993. JOHN FLEISCHMAN was chosen the 2001 City and Regional Magazine Association Writer of the Year and received the 1997 Marine Biological Laboratory Science Writing Prize while serving as senior editor of Ohio Magazine. His pieces appear in such magazines as Smithsonian, Audubon,

Archeology, and The New York Times.
